*Documentary film screening and discussion hosted by the Boston Gardeners' Council,
Boston Natural Areas Network and the South End Lower Roxbury Open Space Land Trust*

BOSTON, MA, January 22, 2010 – Join fellow gardeners to watch and discuss this powerful 2008 documentary concerning efforts to save a large community garden in Los Angeles. Film will be shown on Wednesday, February 3 at the South End Branch of the Boston Public Library located at 685 Tremont Street, Boston. Film will start promptly at 6:00 p.m. and will be followed by community discussion. For more information, contact BNAN at 617-542-7696 or visit www.bostonnatural.org.

The Boston Gardeners' Council (BGC) is a citywide organization that works to promote a permanent, sustainable community garden system in the city of Boston. The South End Lower Roxbury Open Space Land Trust works to acquire, own, improve, and maintain open space for community gardening and pocket parks in the South End and Lower Roxbury neighborhoods of Boston for the public benefit in perpetuity.

Boston Natural Areas Network is a non-profit organization dedicated to bringing together local residents, partner organizations, public officials and foundations to preserve, expand and enhance urban open space, including community gardens, greenways and urban wilds. For further information about the organization, becoming a member or the calendar of events, visit www.bostonnatural.org, or call 617-542-7696.
